Summary

EDAFOTEC is a technology based company funded in 2012, formed from the extensive experience of their founders in the field of research in contaminated and degraded soils, environmental consulting and management of innovation projects. In 2014 the subsidiary in Peru, EDAFOTEC SAC, 100% owned by the Spanish parent company, was established. Keeping in mind always, residue valorization, as the input for the production of artificial soils, our in situ solutions are more effective and efficient than most of others present in the market.
