Summary

? Unknown Attachment

Our goal is to enable the transition of 50.000 smallholder farmers from the coffee monoculture to a biodiverse food production system by 2030. Soil health and biodiversity are at the heart of Biodiversal's value proposition.

Join us to better understand how the coffee sector can catalyze a sound contribution to climate change while improving livelihoods for small scale producers.

Ecological footprintStatus

Biodiversal incubates agriculture production projects and channels investment to small-scale coffee-growing families with the goal of achieving together the transition from monocultures to a resilient production model through biodiverse farming systems.

Perspective

Our goal is to enable the transition of 50.000 smallholder farmers from the coffee monoculture to a biodiverse food production system by 2030. To do that, we call for impact investors to help us catalyse change.
