Summary

Created in 1934, the General Association of Corn Producers is the political heart of the Maiz'Europ' group. Its main mission is to defend producers and corn in all its components (grain, fodder, seeds, sweets) before French and European authorities. Through its action, the AGPM works on a daily basis to ensure that corn growers can make a decent living from their profession. Corn can produce food, feed, bioenergies, biobased products and store carbon.

Presentation

The french organizations of field crop producers, AGPM for maize growers, AGPB for cereal growers, CGB for beet growers, and FOP for oilseed and protein crop producers, have together created a low-carbon field crop method to develop carbon projects on their farms under the French low-carbon label. A new tool to improve practices and help meet the challenge of climate change.
